

THE MUSTANG POST

August 19, 2022

Dear Addenbrooke High School Parents,

Welcome back! I trust your summer was what you hoped it would be. We have had a great first week. Everyone should now have a laptop, their textbooks, and be able to access Infinite Campus and their Gmail. We utilize Google Suite for Docs, Slides, Forms, and other various applications within the classroom. If your student is missing any of the above items, let us know as soon as possible.

Great job on a smooth car line. Just a reminder, please do not utilize the parking lot to the east for any reason. They called us yesterday to warn there was a car they were preparing to tow, but I believe it belonged to a neighboring school.

Kudos on seeing that your children arrive in dress code. I know this is a sensitive topic for some teens, but we believe it will benefit them both now and as an adult.

Please encourage your children to get back into a school year sleep schedule. It takes time to build up the endurance needed for a full slate of classes, athletics, and work after the more relaxed summertime schedule.

The Addenbrooke website can be found at <https://www.addenbrooke.org/> This is a great resource for finding teacher emails, calendars, policies, etc. We do our best to keep it current so if you ever see something in need of correction, please let us know. We are currently working on updating the faculty list so that is still a work in progress.

Enjoy your weekend.
