

To the Board of Directors at Addenbrooke Classical Academy

1. We finished the year with 782.7 students in our K-12 count.
2. Currently our enrollment for K-12 is looking to be 860 students. We budgeted for 830 students. We are projecting to have 60 children in our preschool program with the addition of a classroom.
3. We had 35 students graduate from Addenbrooke Classical Academy on May 20th. Of those who graduated:
 - A. 71 percent were involved in some form of concurrent enrollment.
 - B. Two students graduated from Addenbrooke with their Associate's degree.
 - C. One student received an EMT certification.
 - D. 97 percent of the class graduated.
 - E. 60 percent of them plan to attend a four-year college.
 - F. 14 percent will attend a community college.
 - G. Six percent will attend a trade school.
 - H. 20 percent of our students are entering the workforce.
4. Administrative staff members are working with me on their job descriptions. This is something that should be in our HR files for the coming school year.
5. Addenbrooke will be adding Latin for our 4th grade students on a specials rotation schedule.
6. The high school will be adding a Moral Philosophy class as part of our classical curriculum.
7. We are removing the block schedule next year and will have an eight-period day instead.
8. EnrollJeffco is continuing to be a problem. We are calling families one-by-one who are missing information in the enrollment system. Kari Michelsen, Amber McMaster, Cindy Lamgo, Julie Spencer, Amanda Jerome and Cherie Mazurek have worked tirelessly to overcome the problems created by the poor operating system.
9. As stated in Julie's report, Rose Auferio resigned as assistant principal. We are looking for creative ways to absorb her position within the admin and support staff.

10. The attendance rate tells you the average percentage of students attending school each month. 95% is considered a good attendance rate; 92% is the average. We are going to begin tracking this data quarterly.
