Addenbrooke High School Parent Newsletter

Dear Parents,

Not much news, everyone is being encouraged to work diligently on their classwork. There are 31 more school days left in the semester. If your student needs some extra help in a certain class, teachers are available to help Monday, Wednesday and Thursday after school until 4p. Students can simply drop in.

If you need to check your students' grades, you can access the Infinite Campus gradebook using this link. https://campus.jeffco.k12.co.us/campus/portal/Jeffco_IC.jsp

If you have trouble getting in, call Katherine Jerome at the front desk and she can help you with your password.

Enjoy your long weekend. Happy Halloween!

Respectfully,

Mrs. Lamgo

SAT Prep Class (Juniors only)

Over the last two weeks, the number of students attending this class has dwindled. The class is not required, and if this preparation is not helpful, you may opt out your student. Please email Laurie Adams at ladams@addenbrooke.org if you would like to do so. If students are not in SAT Prep and they should be, this will be marked as an unexcused absence. If opted out, students should go to their regular Red 1 and Red 2 classes. In order to assist students in preparing for the SAT test, which will be taken on April 13, 2022, Addenbrooke has hired an SAT test preparation teacher. This test score is used for deciding college admissions and scholarship awards. The SAT prep class meets every Friday from 8:00-9:30.

Closed Campus - Student Drivers

Just a reminder, Addenbrooke High School is a closed campus. This means once a student is on campus, they stay on campus; once they leave for the day, they do not return. There are students who begin at Warren Tech or RRCC and then come to school later. Some begin at Addenbrooke but leave for afternoon classes off campus. Those students come and go at scheduled times. What students may NOT do is have you call and excuse them to leave campus for a portion of time, usually for lunch, and then return. This policy only applies to student drivers. You, as a parent, always have the right to sign them out and take them to lunch, appointments, etc. and bring them back.

Information Night

If you believe in what we do for students, please share your love for classical education with your neighbors, friends and other family members. Invite them to our November 16th enrollment meeting at 6:30 p.m. for our 2022-23 school year. Steady growth is essential as we continue to provide the needed services for all of our students. Please help us spread the word that Addenbrooke is something quite special so that families you care about can become a part of our Classical Education movement. Your invited guests will see and experience our community for themselves.

Finals Exemptions Policy Reminder

Last year, due to all the quarantines, the finals schedule was unusual. This year we are going back to the routine finals schedule. Finals will be held on Friday, Dec. 17, and Monday, Dec. 20. Students may earn an exemption from a final by: hold an A in the class and have three or less absences, a B in the class and two or less absences, or a 4.0 GPA (absences inconsequential). Attendance on those two days is only required for classes in which a final must be taken.
